 E. A. LINCOLN, Commissioner.

EVERY one is familiar with the
 "What Others Eat at Christmas" turkey, goose, plum pudding and mince pie—but how many of us know what they eat at Christmas?
 In foreign countries!

The Frenchman's Christmas bill of fare, for instance, is extensive and varied and in many respects quite different from our own. The great Gallic national dishes are truffled turkey and black puddings, of which every Frenchman who can afford such luxuries makes a very hearty meal at Yuletide.

In Russia the Christmas meal consists largely of two dishes—one of wheat porridge served with honey and the other a curious compound of stewed pears, apples, oranges, grapes and cherries, sweetened with honey and served cold.

Italians, too, are fond of rather sweet and indigestible dishes, especially at Christmas. One of their favorite combinations is that of eels, periwinkles and vermicelli, while the inevitable macaroni and spaghetti form, of course, the principal articles of food at all times.

The German Christmas dinner offers as its principal attraction the goose, without which your true German would feel that he had not had a real holiday feast. Germans, like Austrians and Italians, have a very sweet taste, as evidenced by their numerous varieties of cake.

Notwithstanding the tendency in all countries to offer huge dinners at Christmas, it would seem that every

BRINGING IN THE PEACOCK IN OLDER TIMES nation's holiday bill of fare is becoming simpler with the course of time.

 An interesting comparison may be made of the Christmas dinners formerly served in England and in this country with those of today, albeit the latter are by no means scanty.

The forebears of modern Englishmen must have possessed magnificent appetites. Their hospitality was conducted on a scale that would make the housekeeper of today shudder. The meal with which they commenced their Christmas day, a mere appetizer to them, was ample enough to rob the modern gourmet of all zest for food for several days. The sideboard of the old English mansion groined under its leathern round of beef, its corpulent pork pie, the Yorkshire ham, the brawn and chine, while on the table itself deviled turkeys' legs, homemade sausages, cutlets and kidneys sent up a mingled and grateful incense from an environment of piles of hot buttered toast, new laid eggs, honey and fruit.

But this report, substantial as it was, was trifling as compared with the dinner—the real dinner—that followed not many hours after. The feast was heralded by the boar's head, preceded by servants who blew resounding flour-ishes on their trumpets. The boar's head itself was carried, sometimes on a dish of gold or silver, into the banqueting hall at the head of a stately procession of guests.

Then came the peacock, which was served even more sumptuously than the boar's head, with its garnishing of rosemary and bay and its tusks ornamented with large apples. This is how they used to prepare the peacock for the feast: When it had been roasted and dressed with a stuffing of sweet herbs and spices and basted with the yolks of eggs it was sewed into its feathers, its back was gilded, and it was borne to the dining hall by dames of high degree, accompanied by the strains of minstrelsy.

Other features of the old time Christmas dinner included geese, turkeys, capons, pheasants, sirloins of beef and haunches of venison. That these were washed down with gallons of ale and wine goes without saying. Indeed, another story might be written of the liquid element of the old English dinner.—Harper's Weekly.

Appeal to Our Citizens.

Our report shows that we received $1,000 and disbursed over $1, 400.00 during the past twelve months, besides articles of clothing, etc., and the president of each ward gave a lot of valuable time in investigating each case. Certainly there would have been much suffering had it not been for your assistance through our association.

Now, we are asking today through each church for volunteers who will meet with us next Thursday afternoon, Nov. 18th, at 3 o'clock at the First M. E. Church, to help us plan for our next year's work and assist in a campaign for raising funds.
 Just a little time, will you not give for the sake of suffering humanity? A little assistance by all will greatly relieve our society and aid distressed people during the next 12 months. A period that will surely try men's souls.

Nature Warns

AGAINST USING CALOMEL

The sickening, nauseating feeling that follows the use of calomel is the natural result of disarranging your entire system. Doctors everywhere are agreeing that the action of calomel is much too strong, and leaves the body sick and weakened.
 LIV-VER-LAX is a wonderful substitute for calomel, that has all of its good effects and none of its bad ones.
 It acts soothingly but thoroughly on the liver, cleansing it of bile, and ridding the entire system of stagnating poison.
 LIV-VER-LAX is strictly a harmless vegetable compound, and is guaranteed to give satisfaction or your money will be refunded. Insist on the original, bearing the likeness and signature of L. K. Grigsby. For sale here at 50c and $1.00 at John

A COLUMBUS INTERVIEW

MR. COX TELLS HIS EXPER-

The following brief account of an interview with a Columbus man over six years ago, and its sequel, will be read with keen interest by every citizen:
 D. S. Cox, of the D. S. Cox and Son grocery, 326 Fourth Avenue, S., Columbus, Miss., "I had trouble from my kidneys for years. If I caught cold it settled in my kidneys, and caused my back to ache. I couldn't stand long without suffering and the kidney secretions were unnatural and scanty. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the Mayo Drug Company, removed the pain in my back, and made my kidneys normal."
 (Statement given March 24, 1908.)

RE-ENDORSEMENT.

On March 31, 1914, Mr. Cox said:

 work for me, and I haven't had need to take them since."

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die.
 I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good.
 I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it.

I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it.

I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me." Thedford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest.
